Interfacing with your Jail or Offender Management System

GUARD1 supports one-way and two-way interfaces with your jail or offender management system.

The standard integration to GUARD1 Real Time is a one-directional interface from your management system. Typically, your management system will export its data to GUARD1.

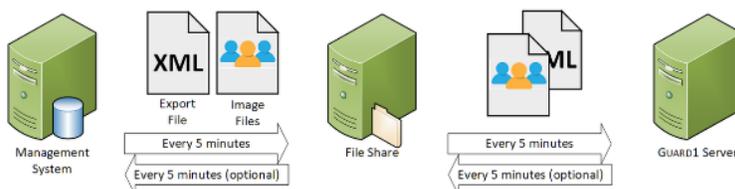

One-way integrations are included if you're able to provide an export file meeting our requirements.

The standard integration to Guard1 is one directional.

GUARD1 uses basic information about the offenders in your facility, name, date of birth, identification numbers, and file name of the photo.

GUARD1 can also provide data back to your system. This can be the data GUARD1 collects, such as well-being checks, meal distribution, recreation, attorney visits, or any other type of inspections, observations, handouts, or movement.

Guard1 also supports bi-directional integrations.

Please contact your GUARD1 Account Manager for any two-way interfaces to scope out the additional Professional Services work.

Finally, we always recommend that you contact your management system provider about licenses and pricing for integrations.

Custom Interfaces

Sometimes, an export file is not possible. Whether this is because of high costs from your Management System vendor, or because your Management System uses a different export mechanism, GUARD1 can support you.

This may require a custom interface between GUARD1 and your Management System (or re-using a custom interface we have already developed).

It is possible that GUARD1 can use an existing export file – for example, one already in place for a commissary or medical vendor.

Please contact us to discuss the alternatives. We have extensive experience integrating with all kinds of external systems and we can help you find a suitable solution – and at a reasonable cost.
