

Professional Support 5-Pack offering overview and ordering guide

Our top priority is to help every business, organization, and individual to be more successful with Microsoft products. Fast, accurate issue resolution and comprehensive support services mean you can focus on core business and personal goals rather than on technology. The result: Increased productivity and a higher return on your technology investments.

This guide is designed to help you understand the Professional Support 5-Pack offering and provide you with information, forms and phone numbers necessary to obtain the support you need.

Offering Overview

Professional Support

Professional Support is targeted at technical communities of individuals, including resellers and consultants, OEMs, Developers, IT Professionals, and Small Businesses. Specific offerings are detailed on the following pages.

Professional Support is available as a 5-pack annual support contract with five incidents. Professional Support incidents can be applied to troubleshoot a specific problem, error message, or functionality that is not working as intended for Microsoft products. An incident is defined as a single support issue and the reasonable effort to resolve it. Incidents may be submitted online or over the phone.

Professional Support can be purchased on an as needed basis or through pre-paid annual support account packages that are valid for one year from date of purchase or until all incidents have been used, whichever comes first.
