Colonial Pageant and Ball

The annual Colonial Pageant and Ball is designed to showcase the community members selected to portray George and Martha Washington during the community wide festivities held each February. The pageant is an elaborate stage interpretation of a historical event in early America. George and Martha are feted with the presentation of beautiful debutantes and their handsome escorts. The Ball immediately follows the pageant and offers an evening of music, food, dancing with attendees from throughout the United States and Mexico. Our Colonial Pageant and Ball provides a platform to strengthen personal and professional friendships and alliances for local, state and international guests, dignitaries and elected officials while promoting our unique culture. Additionally, this event supports local business through the employment of area architects, designers, craftsmen, musicians, and caterers and promotes the sales of retail clothing and services of beauty salons, hair stylists and makeup artists. Our events serve to promote our distinct culture, history and traditions.
